

Microsoft Discovery User Code of Conduct

I understand that by using Microsoft Discovery, I agree to the following:

- I will not use, or intentionally allow others to use, Microsoft Discovery in any manner that supports the design, development, or use of any chemical, biological, radiological, or nuclear weapon;
- I will not use, or intentionally allow others to use, Microsoft Discovery in any manner that could support, promote, facilitate, encourage, or enable violence, terrorism, or any other activity that is undertaken with the intention of harming individuals or humanity; and
- I will not use, or intentionally allow others to use, Microsoft Discovery for any other activities that cause harm, including physical or environmental damage to individuals, organizations, society, or the planet.

I also understand that, without limiting the above-listed restrictions, Microsoft reserves the right to modify this Microsoft Discovery Code of Conduct at its sole discretion.

This Microsoft Discovery User Code of Conduct supplements Microsoft Discovery Preview Agreement.
